DATA Scheme Safeguards

Data Sharing Purposes

Sharing of Australian Government data must be in the public interest and for one of three purposes:

- Government service delivery
- Informing government policy and programs
- Research & development.

Data cannot be shared for the purpose of enforcement or compliance.

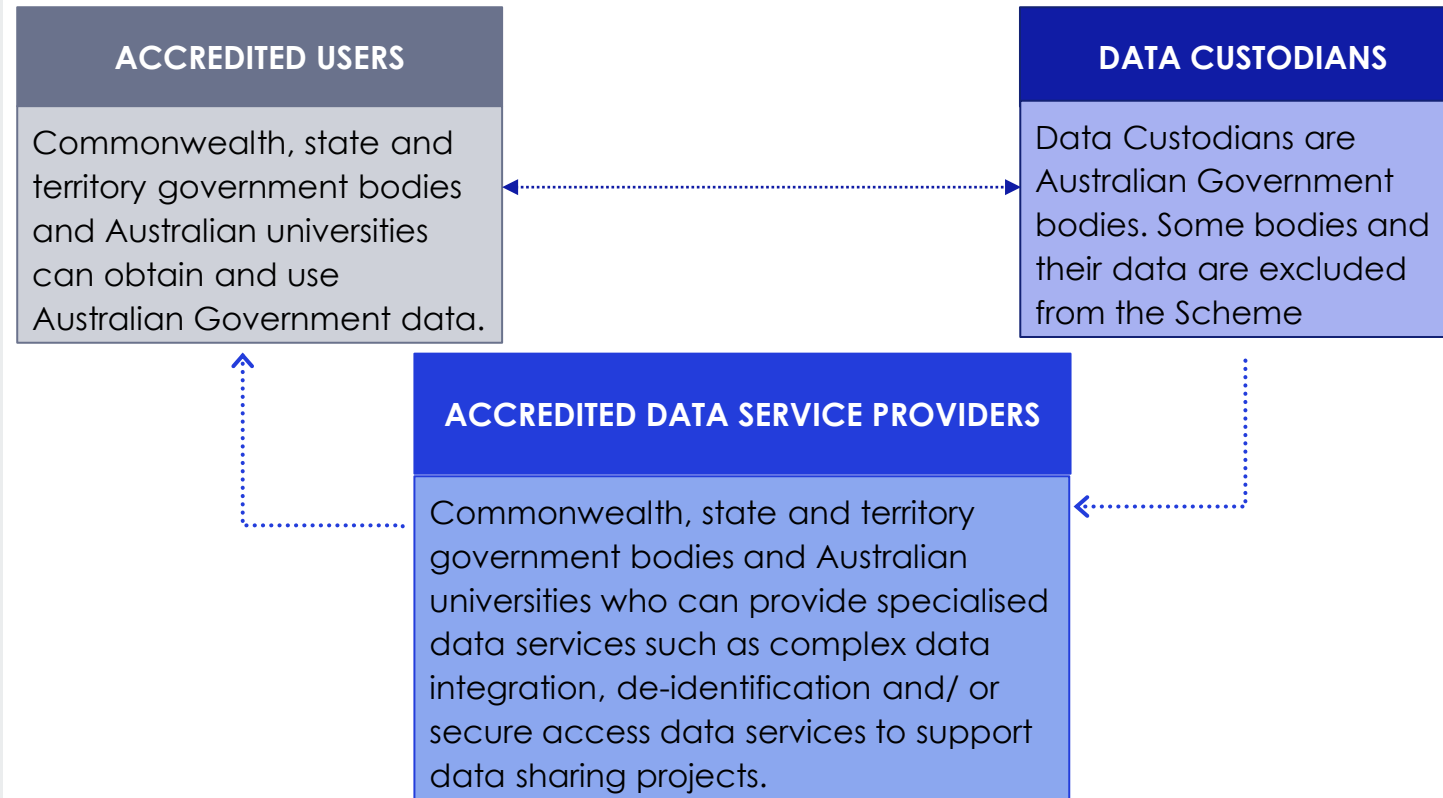

Accreditation

- Commonwealth, state and territory government bodies and Australian universities can apply to be an Accredited User or Accredited Data Service Provider.
- The Minister or National Data Commissioner may grant accreditation and have the power to suspend, vary, or cancel accreditation.
- The Commissioner maintains oversight of all accredited entities

Data Requests

- Data Custodians have no duty to share, however, must provide reasons to Accredited Users if refusing a data sharing request.

DATA Scheme Operation

Data Sharing Principles

- Data Sharing Principles must be applied to all data sharing.
- The Principles manage data sharing risk by applying controls on the project, people, setting, data and output.

Privacy protections

- The DATA Scheme works with the Privacy Act 1988 to protect personal information.
- The privacy protections minimise the sharing of personal information, prohibit the re-identification and storage of data or access of personal information outside Australia.
- Express consent is always required to share biometric data.

DATA Scheme Safeguards

Regulation and compliance

The National Data Commissioner's regulatory functions include:

- accreditation
- handling complaints
- assessments and investigations and taking enforcement actions such as issuing infringement notices and directions, seeking injunctions and civil and criminal penalties
- transferring matters to another appropriate authority.

Transparency and reporting

The National Data Commissioner must:

- keep public registers of Agreements, Accredited Users and Accredited Data Service Providers.
- prepare an Annual Report on the operation of the DATA Scheme, the Commissioner's and the Councils activities.

Data Sharing Agreements

- Arrangements, including application of the data sharing principles, must be documented in a Data Sharing Agreement.
- Agreements that meet scheme requirements must be registered by the National Data Commissioner to take effect.

Data Discovery
